

Dr. Simons is said to be willing to add 8,000,000,000 gold marks to the reparations offer if Germany is not forced to expend such a large sum for maintaining the allied contingents. He believes that 2,000 men, placed as the three bridgeheads will constitute an ample force.

The afternoon papers evince a mid-set tone in commenting on the German offer. Le Temps, commenting editorially, says:

"We must exhibit a firmness of mind without precipitation and feeling. Ministers pass—we must think of the millions of men who will be exposed to the gravest dangers throughout Europe if the reparations problem does not receive a just solution."

Analysis Beyond Comment.

The Times concludes:

"This analysis is beyond comment. Very much below the terms of the Paris agreement, without precision as to true values and statistics, and bound up with reservations that would upset the treaty and deprive the allies of nearly all their guarantees, the German proposals cannot constitute a basis of discussion. They fully justify the firm words M. Briand spoke yesterday before he had knowledge of the proposals, and they only intensify throughout all France the determination finally to teach the German rulers a lesson."

The majority of diplomats believe a conference, with the United States participating, at which Germany would be permitted to discuss, instead of merely being dictated to, would result in important progress being made toward a solution of the reparations question. America's disinterestedness would give its delegate an advantage, and if the Germans were treated as equals, it would improve their moral attitude toward the question.

SIMONS OFFERS TO RESIGN.

BY CARL GROAT.

(Chicago Tribune Staff Correspondent.)

BERLIN, April 27.—Foreign Minister von Simons has offered his resignation because of attacks on him in connection with the new German reparations offer. It was learned today from a most reliable source, that the resignation has not been accepted.

"With a heavy heart, but aware of the responsibilities we have agreed to accept the course of Dr. von Simons, which opens the possibility for real peace throughout the world and the development of Germany," Herr Riesen, speaking for the coalition, announced in the Reichstag today.

The government was criticized, but not openly attacked, by former Chancellor Mueller and Heilferrich.

"We are ready for sacrifices," said Heilferrich, "if an understanding with our enemies can be reached, but not at the expense of our moral obligations."

The foreign minister has consistently incurred the enmity of the leaders of the Right elements in the Reichstag since he first came to power, and now through his action in seeking to win American intervention in the reparations dispute.

Whatever terms eventually are agreed upon and accepted by Germany, the nation is bound to declare them too burdensome and incapable of fulfillment. And, on the other hand, if the negotiations arrive at nothing and the occupation of the Ruhr proceeds, Dr. Simons and the cabinet are going to be blamed for their failure to prevent just that action.

LONDON SEES SOME MERIT

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

LONDON, April 27.—The German note to the United States on reparations was received from Washington this afternoon without comment and the cabinet immediately met to consider it. It was found to differ only in minor details from the translation of the version published unofficially in Berlin, it being equally obscure, and the British decided to ask Lord D'Abernon to immediately secure elucidation. The British still view the proposals as being worth considering.

OFFICIAL DAMAGE TOTAL

(Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.)

(Copyright, 1921.)

PARIS, April 27.—This evening at 9 o'clock the reparations commission summoned to their presence Dr. von Oetzen, head of the German commission on reparations, who replaces Herr Bergmann, and officially informed him of the sum which Germany owes for reparation damage done in the war. The total figure is 132,000,000,000 gold marks, normally $32,000,000,000. This figure is considerably below what had been forecast.

This 132,000,000,000 gold marks represents principal. That 132,000,000,000 total demanded by the allies is principal plus interest over forty-two years. In the allied note to Germany in January fixing the amount of reparations the basic principal was not stated. It is obvious that the allied demand for 222,000,000,000 over a period of forty-two years is much more moderate than would be a demand for 132,000,000,000 plus interest at 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, Here Is Communique.

After meeting with Dr. von Oetzen the following communique was issued:

"The reparations commission, in pursuance of stipulations of Article 223 of the treaty of Versailles, has decided unanimously to fix at 132,000,000,000 gold marks the amount of damages for which reparations are due by Germany in terms of Article 222, second paragraph, and of annex one of part eight of said treaty."

Deductions Are Made.

"In fixing this amount the reparations commission has effected the necessary deductions from the amount of damages in order to make allowance for restitutions effected or to be effected in execution of Article 223, and in consequence no credit will be allowed to Germany in respect to such restitutions."

"The commission has not included in the above amount the sum in respect to further obligations incumbent on Germany in virtue of the third paragraph of Article 222 to 'make reimbursement of all sums which Belgium has borrowed from allies and associated governments up to Nov. 11, 1918, together with interest at the rate of 5 per cent on such sums.'"

HUGHES MARKS TIME AS ALLIES STUDY PROPOSAL

Foreign Entanglements Is Fear in Washington.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., April 27.—(Special.)—Whether Secretary Hughes will be enabled to bring about a reopening of the reparations negotiations depends upon the attitude of the allies toward the German counter proposals, of which he expects to be advised officially by tomorrow.

When he left the state department tonight the secretary said he had received the views of any of the allied governments on the German note. He declined to say whether he himself regarded the Berlin communication as offering a "proper basis for discussion," which was one of the conditions he informed the German government it would be necessary to fulfill before the United States would consider transmitting the proposals to the allies "in a manner acceptable to them."

"No," Probable Allied Reply.

There is little doubt remaining that the allies regard the German proposition, as a whole, unacceptable. It is, therefore, unlikely that the United States will present the note to the allies formally. Mr. Hughes having clearly indicated to Germany that he would not transmit it under these conditions.

It remains to be seen, however, whether the allies find in the Berlin note any basis for further discussion with Germany before taking steps on May 1 to collect by force the reparations due on that date. If they indicate a willingness to negotiate further, it is a foregone conclusion that Mr. Hughes will return such an answer to Germany.

There is a disposition among the irreconcilables in the senate to criticize President Harding for taking a hand in the reparations dispute between Germany and the allies, it being contended that the president is beginning to involve the United States in European affairs, from which he pledged himself to disentangle the nation.

Fear Foreign Entanglements.

They fear he is embarked on a course of action which sooner or later will commit the United States to participation with the allies in enforcing reparations and other treaty terms. On behalf of the administration it is stated that extreme care is being taken not to involve the United States in enforcement of the treaty terms.

The president, it is explained, desires to do what he can to further a settlement of the reparations dispute, believing it to be in the interest of the United States commercially and financially to promote the economic reconstruction of Europe, which is so largely dependent upon payment of Germany's war obligations.

PEGGY HOPKINS PLANNING EARLY RETURN TO STAGE

New York, April 27.—(Special.)—Peggy Hopkins Joyce, whose husband, J. Stanley Joyce of Chicago, seeks annulment of their marriage and the return of $1,000,000 in cash, real estate, and gems which he alleges the demure ex-Follies beauty obtained by trickery, is contemplating an immediate return to the stage.

She went to the country today in Arthur Hammerstein's limousine to think it over for a week. Hammerstein admitted he is negotiating for her appearance under his management.

"I have nothing to say," was Mrs. Joyce's good-by.

J. H. Whitely New Speaker of House of Commons

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

LONDON, April 27.—J. H. Whitely was today unanimously elected speaker of the house of commons, succeeding J. W. Lowther, resigned, who held the post for fifteen years. Mr. Whitely has been chairman of the ways and means committee and deputy speaker for several years. He is a Liberal in politics, while the house is predominantly Tory, but the speakership is not a political office.

KENOSHA WOMAN A SUICIDE.

Kenosha, Wis., April 27.—Mrs. Marianna Meyer, 35, well known Kenosha woman, put on her best dress Tuesday and then committed suicide by gas. She left a note reading: "I am sorry, but I just can't stand the headaches any longer."

PARTED AT THE ALTAR

They loved with a pure and holy love. But the cruel, cold world—the thoughtless, heedless world—mocked their devotion. And so, when human endurance could brook no more, they decided upon a desperate venture. In safety they gained the person's house, but their parents pressed in hot pursuit. And then—well, what happened is told below. We present pictorially Mr. Bobby Rollo and Miss Martha Jane Allyn.

MR. BOBBY ROLLO, 4 years old, yesterday succumbed to the cosmic urge which is said to operate in male bosoms during the vernal solstice. Dispensing with the usual formalities—such as speaking with the paterfamilias and obtaining requisite credentials from the county clerk—he appeared at a pastor's manse in Western Springs with 4 year old Martha Jane Allyn.

It was there the clergyman discovered when he opened the parsonage door to retrieve the morning milk. The young lady was attired in a charming gingham gown of modest plaid. Mr. Rollo wore the conventional blue denim.

WE WANT YANKS AS NEIGHBORS, JAP CONSUL SAYS

Stay in the Philippines, Hanihara Urges.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

TOKIO, April 27.—Masanao Hanihara, formerly attached to the Japanese diplomatic corps at Washington and now consul general at San Francisco, declared that Japan has no designs on the Philippines and that the majority of thinking Japanese prefer to have America remain in the Philippines.

"Because of the official position I hesitate to express an opinion on the Philippine question for fear that it will be accepted as the view of Japan. Therefore you will understand this as a personal view, but it is one, I believe, which is shared by many leading statesmen, as has no doubt been revealed by their interviews."

Welcome as Neighbor.

"The Japanese people, and particularly the intelligent portion of the populace, never have felt the presence of the United States in the Philippines as being a menace. On the other hand, they welcome America as a neighbor. Our sole desire is to promote our commercial interests and friendly relations. Whatever may or may not be, reference to the independence of the Philippines is not a matter on which the Japanese should express an opinion. All Japan wants is the preservation of peace in the islands, for it has absolutely no designs on them. It is the hope of the Japanese that the islands will continue to be governed in the future as peacefully as during the last twenty years."

Wants Americans for Neighbors.

"The majority of thinking Japanese prefer that America should remain in the Philippines because Japan cannot prosper without good neighbors. We do not want to be surrounded by people who cannot govern themselves. Whatever may be the ability of the Philippines to govern themselves, we hope that even if America gives up its political power in the archipelago, the United States will remain commercially the leading people of the Philippines by the presence of its merchants and bankers."

"But if America should see fit to grant immediate independence by withdrawing wholly from the islands, the United States should be the first to step in should trouble arise. The Japanese do not desire to assume such a responsibility. Her motive not only would be misconstrued but resented."

Jobless in Britain Are Increasing Week by Week

Washington, D. C., April 27.—Unemployment in England is increasing at an "alarming rate," consular dispatches reported today. Birmingham, where more than 100,000 persons are idle, was cited as typical, with an increase of 8,000 a week during the last three weeks. An unprecedented volume of German goods is being dumped upon the British market, the messages said.

WASHINGTON NEWS —IN BRIEF—

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 27.—Resigning of the reparations issue, either through formal presentation to the allies or the German note, which is unlikely, or further discussion with Berlin of any of the German proposals, which is possible, depends on the position taken by the allied governments.

Thirty middle west candidates, including five from Illinois, have passed the entrance examinations for the United States military academy.

Senator Smoot inaugurated the debate on revenue questions with a speech in support of his sales tax plan.

Senator Walsh of Massachusetts charged the government with failure properly to provide for disabled ex-service men.

Eighty-four postmasters were nominated today by President Harding, each of whom, except in cases where the veteran preference statute operated, had attained the highest mark in competitive civil service examinations.

Passage at this session of legislation regulating grain exchanges seems assured.

FOREIGN NEWS —IN BRIEF—

BERLIN.—Foreign Minister Simons making headway in weathering the political storm which followed his latest note to Harding. Reichstag swings toward him and vote of confidence is expected.

PARIS.—After the first flurry of denunciation of the German note, France examines Germany's offer as a bargaining document and studies the possibility of collecting without war. Newspapers modify their comment.

LONDON.—England considers the German note food for study and conference.

LONDON.—Lieut. Young shows how the newness of the Tiger kept it from doing good work in the Dogger bank fight, and how Zepplin handicapped rescue of Blucher's crew.

TOKIO.—Lieut. Gen. Saio, commander at Vladivostok, ends his life following the commotion over the killing by a Japanese sentry of an American officer in Vladivostok.

TOKIO.—Japanese consul general at San Francisco says Japan wants the United States to hold the Philippines as protection to Japan.

LONDON.—Authoritative British figures reveal that Japan is building no warships outside of Japan, and that in 1925 the United States will have two more modern capital ships than both Japan and Great Britain put together.

BRITAIN STEPS FAST TOWARDS PEACE IN MINES

$2,500,000 Wage Subsidy a Month Likely.

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

LONDON, April 27.—Considerable progress towards a settlement of the British coal miners' strike was reported as a result of today's meeting of the miners, owners, and government representatives.

Sir Robert Horne, who is conducting the negotiations for the government, made a new offer, suggesting a wage reduction of 2 shillings per shift. The miners agree to a 2 shilling reduction, and this means that the government will have to find a subsidy to meet the difference, amounting to $2,500,000 monthly (normally $2,500,000) for a limited period while the industry is being reorganized.

Will Meet Tomorrow.

Further meetings will be held tomorrow, after which it is expected the miners' delegates will place the proposed settlement before the members of the union for ballot, recommending acceptance.

The special delegates, safety men, and mine owners, who were in conference in London today, came to an amicable agreement about protection for the pits. The railwaysmen also were in a conciliatory mood, the union modify the order against handling export and other coal, explaining the order was only intended to apply to coal for commercial use and not for domestic purposes, hospitals, and public utilities.

"Labor Menace"—Chamberlain.

In his first speech outside the house of commons since he was elected Unionist leader, Austen Chamberlain, speaking before the National Unionist association dinner tonight, urged wide open doors for the party so that ideas of the members could be secured, as the nation was face to face with two new perils.

The first, he declared, was that secret forces were working for the establishment of soviet in England, and the second peril was the Labor party, which has gained extraordinary power in the house of commons.

COAL SHORTAGE ACUTE.

LONDON, April 27.—[United News.]—The shortage of coal is increasing throughout Great Britain. Tram and subway service will be sharply curtailed, beginning Thursday, and further restrictions will be placed on train schedules on Monday.

KRYPTOKS Do Away With This

CHIEF SLUGGER SAYS UNION PAID THUGS $20 A 'JOB'

Tells How His Men Beat Various Workmen.

Sam Fischer, a 32 year old heavy-weight, thrilled the spectators in Judge Thomas Taylor's court yesterday with a two hour recital of his operations as "supervising slugger" for the Upholsterers' union. It was a confession of the shadow of a parallel in the history of Chicago's many labor trials. The witness appeared to be the least disturbed person in the room as he described how he and his hirelings beat up eight foremen of furniture factories during the strike a year ago. Without a sign of emotion, he related how he stood by and watched men, employed for a few dollars, knock violence down with fists and bricks, and then kick them in the face as they fell helpless on the ground.

Men Attacked Near Homes.
Fischer described how workmen, leaving their homes for work in the morning with their wives and babies waving goodbye from the windows, had been set upon and manhandled almost in the shadow of their doorsteps. He related one instance in which a man, blood spattered glove used by one of the slugs had been carried back to headquarters as evidence that the "job had been done." and that the fee, usually about $40 or $70, might be collected.

Fischer named two of the three defendants on trial as conspirators—John E. Graves, international vice president of the union, and Roy Hull, business agent of local No. 111, as the men who paid him and his men for slugging. The third defendant, Gus Kruger, member of the executive board, was mentioned only incidentally in the testimony.

Sluggers' Fee Was $20.
Fischer said Hull would summon him to the headquarters at 165 North La Salle street, designate the men to be slugged, and commission him to do the job. Picking up slugs on the west side at $20 a head appeared easy for Fischer. These men, he said, were obtained at "Lovin' Putty" Antler's poolroom at 3607 Roosevelt road, Harriet Miller's saloon at Roosevelt and California avenues, or Block's restaurant at Fourteenth and Halsted streets. On one occasion one of Mussey's loop billiard halls was the rendezvous.

Fischer's place was closed on March 3 on the recommendation of Chief Morris and Capt. Gleason, but was permitted to reopen a few days later, after Al. Koster and Toman are said to have interested themselves in Antler's behalf.

Miller, ex-puglist and ex-ballplayer of the municipal court, is under indictment in connection with the shooting of Detective William H. Hennessey and James Mulcahy last summer in the Beaux Arts club, a notorious south side resort.

$5 for His First Job.
Fischer testified he had been a member of local No. 24 for some months when he offered his services as a slugger. His first job, he said, was to slug a man named Ryefer, for which he received $5 taxicab fare. Fischer said Henry Palecki, president of the local, ordered Ryefer slugged, and he, Fischer, did the job alone. The next victim was Joseph Hauer, a nonunion upholsterer.

"I went up to headquarters and saw Jim and Tony there," the witness said. "I don't know their last names. [Identified by the prosecution as James Raddock and Tony Deluca.] Jim said, 'This fellow Hauer ought to be slugged.' I told Hull about it and he said, 'Can you do it?' 'Yes,' I said. 'I can get some fellows to do it for $50 or $60.' 'Go ahead,' he said.

"I went out to Putty's poolroom and saw Handelman and 'Mush' there. I told them there was some slugging to do and they agreed to do it for $20 apiece, but Handelman was late and didn't get there. We followed Hauer when he came out of his house with the lunch under his arm, and I saw him knock him all over the ground, and then he got the boots. They kicked him in the head.

Says Hull Approved Work.
"Then we went downtown to see a show and went over to see Hull. He asked me if Jim and Tony had got him and I said, 'Yes, we got him and got him good.' I told him it was worth $20. 'How did you trim him?' Hull asked. I told him and he seemed to be pleased and paid us the money."

The next victims were Joseph Spachman and Gerhard Tauber, employed by the Maurice Tauber Furniture Manufacturing company, 2597 Archer avenue.

"I told Hennessey Miller: I had some work to be got," Fischer continued. "He said he had some men to get them, and get them good, for $60 a head. I told him I could get some men, but he said never mind, that he'd get somebody to do it. 'Jokers' was there and he told me to meet him in the saloon after 6 o'clock. I did and gave him $25. I got from Luedtke and told him there were two men to get. I met 'Joke' and 'Schultz' at Block's place in Hal-

BULLETS CLIMAX THIS ODD FRIENDSHIP

sted street the next morning at 5 o'clock.

Tells of Another Victim.
Another victim picked out by Hull, according to Fischer, was Frank Hatch, foreman at the Modern Parlor Furniture company's plant at 644 West Division street.

"Hull told me Hatch was working there instructing finks," Fischer said. "He said he was willing to pay anything to get him out of the way." Fischer described a trip with Hull to a saloon in Division street, near Halsted, where the business agent pointed out Hatch as he was about to board a street car. Fischer said he boarded the same car and trailed Hatch to his home.

"I went out on the west side to pick up a couple of slugs at Putty's place. I got 'Itchoky' and 'Tootsie,' " Fischer related. "They knocked Hatch at the corner of Division and Robey streets. Tootsie hit him behind the ear and when he went down Itchoky kicked him in the head. I showed Hull the glove used by Tootsie as proof. It was all torn and there was blood on it."

"Real Blood; That's the Boy!"
"That's real blood, all right," Hull said. "That's the boy! Where'd you get him?" When we told him he said it was a good job and gave me between $60 and $70. I took it down to the bank, had it changed, and split it between Itchoky, Tootsie, and myself."

It was Palecki, Fischer said, who also suggested the slugging of George Ters, foreman at the Tauber factory, Handelman and a man called "Dovey" were employed in this case.

"I saw them give Ters a good trimming at Archer avenue and Halsted street," said Fischer. "Dovey got out at Blue Island and Twelfth street. He showed me his overcoat pocket all torn out. He said Ters had done it during the scuffle. 'I said, 'Go down and see a tailor,' I told him, 'and whatever the charges are I'll get them from the union.' I told Hull something ought to be done about that fellow's overcoat and he gave me $75 that time."

Slugging of Joseph Oceg.
Ralph Potter was the slugger selected by Fischer to help him beat up Joseph Oceg, foreman for the American Parlor Furniture company, 421 North Lincoln street.

"I told Potter Oceg was a good mechanic, who used to belong to the union, and who was getting around $100 a week," Fischer stated. "I said I'd speak to Hull, and if he wouldn't give us anything we'd go out and do it anyway. Hull said: 'Go to it and when you get the job done see me.' "We watched Oceg come out with his lunch under his arm. His wife and baby were waving good-bye at the window. We followed him to a vacant lot on the corner. I ran up behind him. I wanted to get him back of the ear, but my foot slipped. I hit him on the jaw and it didn't seem to take much effect. He threw his lunch away and started running."

Victim's Ribs Fractured.
Hull paid them between $20 and $25 for that job, the witness said, and suggested they "get" Walter J. Houston, foreman for the Gold Furniture company, 2238 South Union street, characterized as "a dangerous man to the union." Potter, Bernard Winkowski, Fischer, and another man figured in this slugging, the price agreed to by Hull being $65. Fischer said they beat Houston up so badly he had to call them off. Potter, he said, used a piece of brick. Houston had three ribs fractured, his nose broken, and his teeth knocked out.

"Hull took out $50 and handed it to me," said Fischer. "I told him that was not enough, and he said it was all he was going to give me. I told him he had promised me more, and he said that was all he had. 'Houston's worth at least a hundred,' I told him. 'He's manager of the factory. You're paying 'Greenberg and those other fellers more. I'll see Graves about it.' I told Graves about it and he gave me the other $15."

GIRL SHOTS HER CHUM; TRIES TO END OWN LIFE

Bullets Reveal Strange Friendship.

The threat which Miss Jeanette Hoy made a week ago was fulfilled yesterday. She shot and seriously wounded Miss Katherine Davis, her girl friend, and then tried to kill herself.

Both girls are in St. Luke's hospital fighting for their lives. Miss Davis may recover. Miss Hoy is facing a crisis.

It was last Thursday night that the strange friendship of the two girls became public. Miss Davis, who is employed by the George S. Johnson Optical company in the Mailers building, asked the police to arrest Miss Hoy. The police were shown a note the latter had written, threatening the life of Miss Davis. A bullet had been imbedded in the letter.

Promises to Stop Annoying.
Miss Hoy was arrested. When she was arraigned in a municipal court she promised the judge that she would discontinue annoying the Davis girl.

Miss Davis left the Eleanor club, 3445 Indiana avenue, yesterday for her work. She had not heard from Miss Hoy for three days. She was accompanied by her brother, James E. Davis. When Miss Davis stepped from the elevated train at the Madison and Wabash station she met Miss Hoy. There in the early morning crowd of loop workers the two girls began to argue. On the platform was Miss Marjorie Kehoe, friend of Miss Davis.

Fires at Miss Davis.
No one in the crowd was able to tell what the two girls said to one another. Two shots were fired and Miss Davis fell. Miss Hoy ran down the elevated station stairs. She turned east in Madison street, and ran as far as the alley in the middle of the block.

In the alley, Miss Hoy fired three more shots, wounding herself with each one. Then she came to the corner of Madison and Wabash avenue. There she asked to use the telephone—then dropped to the floor.

Meanwhile Miss Kehoe and several persons, who witnessed the shooting, had carried Miss Davis to the Western Union office on the corner. The police took the two wounded girls to St. Luke's hospital.

Tells of Strange Friendship.
Last week Miss Davis told of the strange acquaintance with Miss Hoy. "I met Miss Hoy in 1919," she said. "She at once became friendly and often came to my room. We went to theaters together and grew to be close friends. Then I decided to break off the acquaintance. I told her I did not want to see her again. She became angry."

"I finally had to go to my home in Chattanooga, but when I returned I met her again. She was a few days before Christmas—she came into my room at the Eleanor club. I told her I didn't want to see her. Afterwards she sent gifts, money, letters. She begged me to see her, but I refused. Then I received this letter with the bullet in it. I was afraid, and I asked the police for protection."

Miss Hoy has been living with her father, James Hoy, a cement contractor, at 3641 West Madison street.

IRISH AMBUSH WOUNDS FIVE BRITISH POLICE
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
BELFAST, April 27.—Five special constables were critically wounded at Newry last night when armed assailants in ambush threw bombs in the midst of a patrol of six men. Constable Lythe, the only one of the six not injured, opened fire on the attackers, but without result. The military later arrested three men carrying revolvers and bombs.

PROTEST TO HARDING.
LONDON, April 27.—[United News.]—The Cork harbor board has addressed a protest to President Harding, and the pope against the execution of the four Irishmen, captured in an ambush of crown forces, and to suffer the death penalty at dawn Thursday.

The protest declares that a state of war exists between Ireland and Great Britain, and that the executions are therefore violations of the rules of civilized warfare.

The four men are Patrick O'Sullivan, Maurice Moore, Patrick Ronayne, and Thomas Mulcahy, convicted of participation in the recent ambush at Clonmull. The executions will take place at the Cork military barracks.

CALL ARCADEA TERRACE RALLY.
An open air meeting will be held by the Arcadea Terrace Improvement and Protective association on Sunday afternoon, May 8, at the school on the grounds of Brittanwood. The purpose is to inform all property owners as to what is being done to improve the subdivision.

MRS. BRITTEN REACHES FRANCE WITH PROTEST

Foch to See Congressman's Wife.

CHERBOURG, France, April 27.—Mrs. Fred A. Britten, bearing the protest of the Chicago Congress Against the Retention of Black Troops in German occupied territory, which she intends to deliver to Marshal Foch, arrived here today on the steamer Olympic. She left immediately for Paris. She is the wife of Congressman Fred Britten of Illinois.

MARSHALL FOCH READY.
Paris, April 27.—AT Marshall Foch's headquarters the Associated Press was informed that the news of Mrs. Britten's intention to deliver a protest against the retention of African troops in the occupied zone, conveyed by the correspondent, was the first intimation received that such a move was contemplated.

Marshal Foch was too busy with the May 1 occupation plans, in conference with Gen. Weygand, to receive the correspondent, but his aid said the marshal would have no objection to receiving Mrs. Britten, although a reply to her protest had already been made.

"No Black Troops."
"It seems that Gen. Allen [commander of the American forces of occupation] has fully replied to Mrs. Britten's protest," the aid said. "His report is quite unequivocal. There are no black troops in the occupied zone at the present time, having been removed long since."

The aid added that Marshal Foch would not stand on the question whether he was qualified to receive the protest or whether it should be delivered to the minister of war or the council of ambassadors, but would be glad to meet Mrs. Britten in order to dispel any misgivings which she might have concerning "the black horrors."

NEW CUTS PLACE YELLOW CABBACK AT PRE-WAR RATE

The Yellow Cab company announced yesterday a new reduction in taxicab fares to take effect May 1. The reduction, the second in sixty days, cuts the price of the first half mile from 30 cents to 25 cents and the fare of extra passengers from 25 to 20 cents for the entire trip.

"We are now back to our pre-war basis," said John Hertz, president of the concern. "So far as we know, our company is the first in this part of the country to return to a normal fare, and it is possible that we will make still further reductions."

It will require almost a month to complete the reduction because it involves a mechanical change in 1,100 meters. The first cabs with the new rate will be on the streets Sunday.

Volume of business has made the rate cut possible, according to officials.

Wife Tried to Vamp All, Husband Charges in Bill

Mrs. Margaret Appelmann "ramped and lured" every man she could discover, and now has deserted her husband for a man who vamped her, according to a bill for divorce filed yesterday for Jacob Appelmann, a vaudeville actor. The bill states that Mrs. Appelmann was "flirting every night at Wilson avenue and Broadway."

JAPAN GENERAL A SUICIDE OVER KILLING OF YANK

Saito, Commander at Vladivostok, Dead.

TOKIO, April 24.—[By the Associated Press.]—Lieut. Gen. Saito, commander in chief of the 11th Japanese division at Vladivostok, ended his life on Monday, his death being a sequel to the shooting of Naval Lieutenant W. H. Langdon in that city early in January, says the Hoochi Shimbun of Tokio. Gen. Saito is said either to have held himself responsible for the death of Lieut. Langdon, or to have been irritated by what he believed was the weakness of the Japanese government in dealing with the incident.

Lieut. Langdon was shot and killed by Toshigoro Ogasawara, a sentry, who was later tried before a court martial and was found not guilty. He was, however, sentenced to one month's imprisonment for making false statements, and his superior officers were censured for failing to instruct him properly as to his duties.

Megata for Jap Constraint.
Self-constraint and dignity were urged upon the people of Japan in their discussions of Yip and Shantung questions by Baron Megata, head of the Japanese delegation at the Geneva meeting of the assembly of the league of nations, who arrived here today. He declared the settlement of these questions was complicated by "sensational publicity," adding he was convinced the extreme American press "was largely influenced by propaganda."

Baron Megata, who came to Japan from Europe by way of America, said he was impressed by the evidence of good will and friendship toward Japan that had been shown throughout the United States during his journey across that country.

Welcome to Wood.
Japanese apparently expect much from the visit of Gen. Wood, who will come to Japan after concluding his visit to the Philippine islands.

While it is recognized that the general is a military man, it is believed that the nature of his mission to the far east will permit a discussion of various matters of mutual interest to Japan and the United States.

In voicing the nation's welcome to Gen. Wood, the conservative Japanese weekly, the Herald of Asia, thinks the visit may be productive of highly beneficial results.

LIFE FOR STOKES JUST ONE COURT AFTER ANOTHER

Home Scandal, Blackmail, and U. S. Suit in Day.

New York, April 27.—[Special.]—W. E. D. Stokes occupied the attention of three courts today as a participant in various criminal and civil suits. His day's legal activities were:

In the Supreme court, under Justice Finch, he listened to the cross-examination of his wife, from whom he is asking a divorce, in which his attorneys attempted to break down her story denying his charges against her and making counter charges against him.

In general sessions Niles Gustaf Rhenstrom, 17, pleaded guilty to an attempt to blackmail Stokes by means of threatening letters. The boy probably will be deported to Sweden, whence he came nine months ago.

Eager for Damaging Note.

In Federal District court Stokes was subpoenaed to appear as a witness against Frank A. Hanson of Troy, charged with using the mails in a scheme to defraud. Hanson is said to have offered to obtain for Stokes a letter which he said was written to Mrs. Stokes, and which he asserted deeply compromised her.

Despite a severe cross-examination Mrs. Stokes proved to be her own best witness.

She avoided a pitfall in the identification of "Mrs. Estelle," whom she said her husband financed in a millinery establishment in the Ansonia.

Letters expressing love for her husband, which she wrote a year or so after her marriage, were introduced by his counsel.

First Time Love Died.

"When did you decide that you no longer loved him?" asked Herbert C. Smyth for Mr. Stokes.

"When I entered this courtroom and realized what a fraud he had against me," she replied.

Mr. Smyth had the witness go over her diary and pick out references to her husband as to unpleasant things he had done and the following entries were read:

"July 6, 1914.—Will smashed the dishes at breakfast."

"July 25, 1914.—I made a great mistake in marrying him."

"Aug. 2, 1914.—Will frightened me again. How sorry I am that I married him."

Mr. Smyth read letters written by Mrs. Stokes to her husband from Denver in 1912. One of them said:

"Dearest Will: I did not want a day to go by without writing to my sweetheart. Don't forget me and don't find an understudy. I am hungry for you now."

Cells Lawyer a Lie.

Concerning "Mrs. Estelle," Mrs. Stokes said she would know the woman if she saw her. A short, blonde woman, fashionably gowned, entered the courtroom and when asked if she knew her, Mrs. Stokes exclaimed:

"That is not Mrs. Estelle. This is a fraud and you know it."

"Why, then I'm a liar, too?" Mr. Smyth asked.

"Yes, you are," she replied.

Mr. Smyth asked for Mrs. Stokes' diary and she replied, "I will read it myself, but I don't want you to have it. I don't think you were exactly honest in this fraud."

"Then I am dishonest as well as a liar," he said smiling.

The trial will continue tomorrow.

HOW TO HOLD A BABY

How do you hold your baby? Mrs. James H. Channon of 220 East Walton street, the mother of five daughters, says the proper way is to carry a child on the left arm, leaving the right hand free for use. Mrs. Channon visited the nursery of the Illinois General hospital yesterday and gave a demonstration to young mothers. The hospital's $500,000 drive for a building fund will be held from June 1 to 11.

U. S. MUST TAKE INTERNATIONAL VIEW—BEDFORD

Commerce Chamber Sifts Problems.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 27.—The United States cannot afford to isolate itself from the rest of the world, but must cooperate with the other countries on a "nonpolitical basis" to restore stable business conditions, A. C. Bedford, chairman of the board of directors of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, and Willis P. Booth, vice president of the Guaranty Trust company, New York, told the United States Chamber of Commerce, in an annual convention here, tonight.

They pointed out that American business cannot find a market abroad for its surplus products as long as there are unsettled and abnormal conditions in the world.

Future Lies Abroad.

"The future of American greatness in foreign trade," Mr. Bedford said, "depends upon our ability to think and act internationally."

"We have always found it possible to employ most of our money at home, but the investment markets of the world know no boundary lines, and in the future the opportunity of the American merchant and manufacturer will lie not alone in promoting his trade at home but in casting his lot with the business men of the world to promote the building of industries, the clearing of the waste places of the world, the making fruitful of the barren fields, and of training nature to become more than ever responsive to promoting the highest welfare of all."

Plan to Restore Normalcy.

Mr. Booth, recently returned from Europe, where he attended a meeting of the board of directors of the International Chamber of Commerce, said the program for putting American business on its feet should be as follows:

"Cooperation, if practicable, on non-political basis with the allies and Germany in settling the indemnity."

"Postpone payment of allies' indebtedness to us for a period paralleling the indemnity settlements."

Suggestions for raising the $4,000,000,000 required to run the government for the next fiscal year were made by Representative Good, chairman of the house appropriations committee.

"Our tariff duties should be increased," he said, "and the excess profits tax and the tax on transportation should be repealed and the super-tax on individuals modified."

He favored an additional tax upon luxuries, such as tobacco, cigars, and cigars.

BRUTAL ATTITUDE OF INDIFFERENCE TO 'VETS' BARED

Senate Stirred by Story of How U. S. Forgets.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., April 27.—[Special.]—In a scathing indictment of the government's failure to provide adequate hospitalization for ex-service men, Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, Democrat, today said invalid veterans of the world war "are housed in so-called hospitals under conditions in which a self-respecting community would not tolerate its incapacitated criminals to live."

His charges, based upon observation and investigation, caused a sensation in the senate. Senator Pomerene of Ohio demanded an immediate investigation, and called for the court martial of officers responsible for the conditions described. The galleries applauded the demand.

All Activities Assailed.

Senator Walsh adversely criticized the systems of insurance compensation, and vocational training for the ex-service men.

"But there is another condition which I think is even more grievous," he said. "It is bad enough to withhold insurance or compensation, or vocational training from one deserving of it, but it is unthinkable, it is inhuman, to think that we should withhold the proper hospital accommodations from wounded men and incapacitated soldiers, and compel them either to remain at home without sufficient care and medical attention, or go into hospitals so crowded, so unclean, so insanitary, so poorly conducted and managed, that they constitute a still greater menace to the welfare of soldiers than their disability."

Men Slowly Going Crazy.

"The care of mental cases has been almost entirely neglected, and, while they are the most serious, the most far reaching in their effects, they have received little attention, and thousands of them are forced to let their illness become aggravated day by day while waiting for the government to take care of them."

"It is a sad reflection, indeed, upon the ingenuity of the present war bureau that they have been unable to find some buildings in the country that they can convert into hospitals for these men, even if they be in army cantonments, where modern hospitals were built a few years ago at great expense, and are now abandoned."

"As the hospitals are today there is in many instances a lack of sanitary accommodations, uncleanliness, disorder, and filth. There is an inadequacy of medical aid and advice, a shortage of the most elementary hospital equipment, and a startling absence of discipline and morale."

Ghouls Reke In Profits.

"The per capita boarding out method means that fresh air, cleanliness, and food is to be subordinated to the making of a fair profit by the keepers of these boarding hospitals. We do not pursue such a plan even in caring for paupers."

Senator Walsh described scenes of overcrowding and insanitary conditions he had observed.

PIER SHOW WILL STAVE OFF BREAD LINE, MAYOR SAYS

The purpose of the Pier Show of Progress here during the first part of August is to stave off the possibility of a municipal bread line, Mayor Thompson told members of the Greater Chicago center of the American Racing Pigeon union, who met in the city hall last night to perfect plans for the silver cup pigeon race during the present.

"Your mayor has been importuned time and again to open up the municipal pier lodging houses and bread lines," the mayor said. "The Chicago Boosters' club, of which I am president, conceived a different means. We decided to have an exhibition here which would bring millions of visitors to the city to buy from us and leave millions of dollars here."

"These visitors will see that Chicago manufacturers make things better than others and will then purchase here regularly. Factories will open and the unemployment situation will cease. Our people want work, not charity."

MY TIRED FEET
ACHED FOR "TIZ"

Let your sore, swollen, aching feet spread out in a bath of "Tiz"

Just take your shoes off and then, those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunions-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, calluses and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

Get a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet feel! How comfortable your shoes feel! You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.

LINCOLN ROAD MEN APPROVE OF MEMORIAL TREES

Offer to Help Out All Over the Country.

WHAT TREES WILL DO

They will benefit the land and not take up much room. They will help the soil and insectivorous birds.
They will modify climate, defy storms
and winter, defeat hot winds of summer, soften the landscape, multiply and thereby check destructive insects, cause more snow to remain on the land in winter, more rain to fall in summer. Their yields of fruit and nuts will gladden the homes and children, their firewood will brighten the winter and Christmas, and their lumber will make the nation strong and happy.—ROCKWELL SAYRE, Chicago.

BY LEOLA ALLARD.

G. B. Hoag, secretary of the Lincoln roadway association yesterday informed THE TRIBUNE he had a telephone call from the association's executive committee asking him to be sure to plant the highway organization is now at the service of THE CHICAGO Highway Roads of Remembrance by planting a tree for each American who died in the great war.

The organization includes 400 members in addition to the national officers.
Local officials and local citizens take care of the highway trees in each district. The road trees from New York to San Francisco, and are available for any sort of service, information or technical advice.

Hoag says the association can stretch any stretch of the highway at any time through Mr. Bement. The association includes engineers, state and county officials and others who are doing the work.

Foresters Approve Plan.
After objections as to the effect of the trees have come in, but they have entirely overcome by statements from experts. Trees will not be planting the highways heater skelter,
but will be planted under the advice of watchful eyes of state foresters, of whom will be asked to give the best their attention.

May foresters already have written approval of THE TRIBUNE's plan.
Others will be asked for their help.
The United States department of forestry will always give any advice any forester asks for.

German von Schreck of St. Louis, consulting timber engineer, writes:
"I am very much in favor of THE TRIBUNE's plan. It is a good and desirable one. I point out that it should be kept as a distinct movement, separate from the endeavors which we are making at present toward establishing a definite forestry policy."

Minnesota Lauds Idea.
Mr. T. Cox, state forester of Minnesota, says: "We have in this department considered a plan to supply Boy Scout leaders with trees for memorial planting either along highways in parks or on school grounds, in view of the fact that President Harding has passed May 22-28 as Fire Protection Day. If we can be of assistance, call on us."

At a Monday meeting of veterans of every post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Illinois, the committee of 100 members strongly endorsed
THE TRIBUNE plan. "THE TRIBUNE counts on the V. F. W., not only nationally, but we will take it up at our local level of Foreign Wars, our official paper," was the statement of Charles S. Pemburn, national chief of the V. F. W.

Stennik Chicago, Chicago Polish club, not only endorsed the memorial planting, but printed a front page column to enlist the interest of its members.

SAVED—FOR THE TIME BEING

Hope of preserving the old Fine Arts building of the World's fair, former home of the Field museum, was strengthened yesterday when Architect George W. Maher, chairman of the municipal art and town planning committee of the Illinois chapter of the American Institute of Architects, received a letter from Secretary Neil of the south park commissioners. The letter stated that the park board at its last meeting decided not to start wrecking the historic old structure. Chicago architects are working hard to save the building for public use, estimates of the cost of rehabilitation having been made by them.

H. P. CRANE JR. FACES ONE TO 20 YEARS IN CELL

Guilty of Attack on Young Girl.

Herbert P. Crane Jr. faces a penitentiary sentence of from one to twenty years. He was found guilty of attacking a 15 years old girl by a jury in Judge Thompson's court yesterday.

After the verdict was read, Crane stood still for a moment. When he sat down, a voice in the court room was heard to exclaim, "that's too bad."
"You needn't commiserate with me," Crane snorted with a half smile. "In my own conscience I know I am innocent and don't want anybody's sympathy."

The indictment against Crane charged him with attacking Louise Sturm, Crane and witnesses for the defense repeatedly denied he had been in Lincoln park near the Grant monument on Jan. 26, the date of the attack.
"This is the first jury to branch away from the custom of freeing dangerous men of the type who annoy
women and little girls," Assistant State's Attorney Thomas Peden said.
"They have shown they want to make public streets and especially parks of this city safe."

ROME, April 27.—The Italian government has given the free state of Fiume forty cigarette machines capable of making 192,000,000 cigarettes monthly. A three weeks' production will be sufficient to meet the needs of the Fiuman smokers, and the excess supply, 2,350,000,000, will be bought by the Italian government. Besides being of great help financially to the government of Fiume, the gift will result in employment for 1,500 workmen in the

SWAMP DEATH MYSTERY GROWS; FIND NO POISON

After thirty-six hours of investigation, police officials of Chicago, Rome-ville, Lockport, and Joliet last night were forced to confess that the circumstances surrounding the death of Robert H. Brethold of 2134 Cleveland avenue, son of a wealthy Wilmette contractor, were still a mystery.

Brethold's body was found early Tuesday morning in a swamp on the McCoy farm, two miles southeast of Romeoville. The body was unmarked except a slight bruise over the left eye.
Chemical analysis made to determine the cause of death gave negative results on tests for alcohol, arsenic, and strychnine. The heart showed no symptoms which might indicate heart disease.

Several theories to account for Brethold's presence in the lonely marsh have been advanced by relatives and the police; each of these theories is being investigated.

It is pointed out that Brethold, who was overhauled financially or family troubles, might have tried "to get away from it all" by fleeing the city, and then, stumbling around in the dark after leaving an interurban car at Romeo, he might have fallen into the ditch where his body was found, hitting his head on a stone with sufficient force to stun him momentarily. In that period of insensibility, it is declared, he could have inhaled enough water to cause strangulation.

Another theory is that Brethold may have been drugged with some slow acting poison. The police have traced in detail most

The Need of the Hour Is the Builder's Opportunity

FRANCE has recently offered to bear fifty per cent.
of the cost in the construction of homes for her people. England is planning the construction of 500,000 homes to house her workmen. The housing shortage in America is even more acute.

Rapidly falling prices of building materials, with a steadily mounting demand for homes is presenting the American builder with a golden opportunity. Probably never before in the history of building has this opportunity for sound, conservative returns been so striking.

In the approaching building awakening electrical installations should receive first consideration. American families are fast demanding for their homes the comfort, convenience and time-saving features that modern electrical equipment alone can supply.

In the choice of this electrical equipment, the best results demand that it be of proven merit. Habirshaw insulated wire and cable, the recognized standard in the electrical industry since its inception, strikingly illustrates this point. If your other materials of installation be of the same high quality you can be assured of the best possible results from your electrical system.
Produced in millions of feet monthly and distributed through the merchandising organization of the Western Electric Company, Habirshaw wire is now available in every active market in the United States at the lowest possible price to the consumer.

A concise, readable little Habirshaw booklet entitled "The

BATTLE CRUISER TIGER TOO NEW TO HARM ENEMY

Did Not Score a Hit, Sailors Say.

Lieut. Young told yesterday of the damaged Lion being towed back to port, the sharp lookout for submarines and the appearance of the fighting men after their terrible experience in the Dogger bank battle. Lessons learned by the superdreadnaught fight also are told.

BY LIEUT. FILSON YOUNG.
(Copyright 1921, in U. S. by The Chicago Tribune.)

We had no "director" (a device by which all guns can be trained, laid off, fired simultaneously and accurately from one central position, generally on the foremast well above smoke), fitted in any of the ships except Tiger, and its gunnery conditions were not such as to afford any evidence as to its value; some of the observers in our small craft on the port quarter of the enemy, who were in a good position to see, alleged that it never hit anything at all. That was, no doubt, an exaggeration, but it is probable that the effect of her gunfire in the actual engagement was negligible, and apart from a certain moral value that its presence afforded, it was as well not to have been there.

If the Queen Mary had been with us, the story would have been a very different one. All this involves no reflection on the officers and crew of the Tiger. The ship had been hurried out of the builders' hands before it was completed.

No Time to Tune Up.

No adequate time or opportunity was given its officers for tuning it up. I believe at the time of its action it still had some dockyard hands on board, engaged in completing its fittings. It was all the more unfortunate, therefore, that it was the only one of the battle cruisers who had men killed on board, a shell having exploded in its intelligence office on the forward superstructure. This shell killed five men, and also Engineer Captain Taylor, a much valued member of the admiral's staff, who had his quarters in the Tiger. Otherwise the Lion was the only ship of the squadron to suffer any serious damage. An incident occurred which proved the uselessness of mere visual impressions as to the effect of gunfire.

As the Tiger passed us, when we turned out of the action, there was a great fire raging on its after deck. As a matter of fact, all that was the matter with it was the blowing of its boats, which were collected in the position, had caught fire and were burning furiously—a fire which soon burned itself out and had no importance whatever. Yet you may be quite sure that the effect was put down by the Germans to the destructive effects of gunfire, and I have no doubt they counted it as practically disabled. A ship, therefore, which is being fired at may appear to be enveloped in flames and half disabled, while in fact it has received no essential damage at all.

As we turned out of the action, we observed a Zeppelin approaching, apparently about eighteen or twenty miles away, and I confess that we felt rather helpless with both our engines stopped, and had no doubt that it was coming to finish us off.

Did Not Bomb the Lion.
Apparently, however it did not see the Lion, but headed instead for the Blücher and hovered about it. When

93 TODAY, AND HE NEVER SMOKED, DRANK, OR CHEWED

Today Philip Merz of 841 Bradley court will have spent a drinkless, smokeless, and chewless ninety-three years.

"I am not exactly a prohibitionist, but I never did drink, and I hate tobacco. I expect to live to be a hundred," he said yesterday.

Mr. Merz has been in Chicago sixty-six years. Until recently he was a carpenter and built more than 100 homes in the neighborhood where he lives. Two years ago he took his hammer and saw and crawled on the roof of a barn and repaired it.

Mr. Merz has four children living, the oldest, 65 years old.

Our light cruisers and destroyers closed the Blücher to give her the coup de grace, she was in an appalling condition, almost on her beam ends, glowing red hot in many places with her furnaces that raged within her, and yet gallantly firing with two of her remaining eight inch guns that were pointing nearly skywards. The Arethusa went in and put a couple of torpedoes into her, which mercifully brought her struggles to an end, although with one of her last shots she managed to kill and wound a number of men in the Meteor.

It was when our destroyers were at work picking up the survivors who were struggling in the water that the Zeppelin began to drop bombs into the area where the rescues were taking place, and Commodore Goodenough was obliged to make a signal from Southampton that all ships were to leave the spot at once. But for this extraordinary action on the part of the Zeppelin many more of the survivors would undoubtedly have been saved. It was due to a mistake as to the identity of the Blücher. It had tripped masts, and was no doubt thought to be the Tiger or New Zealand, because for some time afterwards the Germans thought that they had sunk one of these ships.

[Next installment tomorrow.]

As the Tiger passed us, when we turned out of the action, there was a great fire raging on its after deck. As a matter of fact, all that was the matter with it was the blowing of its boats, which were collected in the position, had caught fire and were burning furiously—a fire which soon burned itself out and had no importance whatever. Yet you may be quite sure that the effect was put down by the Germans to the destructive effects of gunfire, and I have no doubt they counted it as practically disabled. AMERICAN CONGO OF 1921, GEORGIA! GOVERNOR'S FEAR

Rural Leopolds' Atrocities
Bared by Little Book.

Atlanta, Ga., April 27.—(Special.)—

Under the title, "The Negro in Georgia," Gov. Hugh M. Dorsey has issued in booklet form evidence of 135 instances of "Negroes lynched, Negroes held in peonage, Negroes driven out by organized lawlessness, and Negroes subjected to individual acts of cruelty" in various counties of the state within the last two years.

"In some counties," the governor said, "the Negro is being driven out as if he were a wild beast; in others he is being held a slave. No effort has been made to collect the cases cited. If such an effort were made, I believe the number could be multiplied. In only two of the 135 cases cited is the 'usual crime' against white women involved."

Recalls Leopold and Congo.

Then the governor added: "If conditions indicated by these charges should continue, both God and man would justly condemn Georgia more severely than God and man have condemned Belgium and Leopold for the Congo atrocities. But worse than that condemnation would be the continued toleration of such cruelties in Georgia." Lynchings, of which there have been 418 in Georgia since 1885 (a larger number than in any other state), form the smallest group of the charges of Gov. Dorsey. He laid more stress on instances of peonage, among which was listed the Williams case, recently brought to a climax.

Still more stress is laid upon the driving away of Negroes, instances of which embrace a number wherein the prosperity and industry of the victims seem to have been the occasion of offense.

The Heroes of the Dark.

In the evidence offered appeared charges against the Kuklux Klan as well as "White Caps" and "Night Riders." One charge against the Klan was discredited by a sheriff, who was himself a member of it, however. A call for the purging of Georgia by herself closes Gov. Dorsey's statement, which was first made public at last Friday's meeting of the interracial committee. Of the remedies that should be sought, the governor said:

"I place the charges before you as they came to me, unsolicited.

"The investigation and suggestion of a remedy should come from Georgians, and not from outsiders. For these reasons, I suggest the following remedies:

"1. Publicity, or the careful gathering and investigation by Georgians, and not by outsiders, of facts as to our treatment of the Negro, and the publication of these facts to the people of Georgia.

"2. An organized campaign by the churches to place in every section of Georgia a sufficient number of Sunday schools and churches.

Wants Ample Education.

"3. Compulsory education for both races.

"4. The organization of state committees on race relations; one committee composed of leading white citizens, another of leaders among the Negroes, and local committees made up in the same manner in each county of the state, the committees to confer together when necessary concerning matters vital to the welfare of both races."

A state constabulary, a financial penalty on any county in which a lynching may occur, and similar commissions to investigate conditions are recommended as remedies for the lynching evil.

Rubber as light as silk

—built into these smart raincoats

INTO the fabric of every Raynster are built six light layers of rubber—so thin and flexible you'd never know they were there. Yet this rubber backing gives perfect protection always—sheds the hardest rain.

You'll see Raynsters this year wherever you go—all over America smartly-dressed men are wearing them.

Dozens of different fabrics—woolens, worsteds, heather-tones. Dozens of different styles—for men, women, and children. Some models have the rubber on the outside—for firemen, policemen, farmers, drivers, and all who work outdoors.

Ask your dealer to show you Raynsters—or write to the Chicago Branch of the United States Rubber Company, 218 W. Madison Street, for address of your nearest dealer.

19 places where sediment damages your engine

RIGHT after overhauling, or when you first use the new car she's as smooth as oiled silk. How long will it be until the power begins to go bad, the engine knocks now and again, bucks when you throttle down, overheats on a hard pull?

Such premature troubles have a cause. Under the intense heat of your engine—200° to 1000° F.—ordinary oil forms black sediment. Sediment damages vital parts. See the long list—19—shown above.

Treat your engine fairly. Let the parts keep smooth and bright. Over a million motorists keep their engine running smoothly by using Vedol, the lubricant that resists heat.

Sediment is reduced 86% when you use Vedol. With Vedol in your engine costly replacements, bearing wear, valve troubles, are all held down to minimum. Have your engine flushed out to cleanse it of grit, sediment and thickened oil. Put in Vedol. Leading dealers have it in stock. Ask today for a supply of Vedol.

Vedol lubricants for every part of the car

Use Vedol lubricants for all parts of the car: VEEDOL for the engine (light, medium, heavy, special heavy, extra heavy); for the differential and transmission, VEEDOL TRANS-GEAR OIL or GREASE COMPOUND; for the tractor and truck, WORM DRIVE OIL; GRAPHITE GREASE; CUP GREASE.

BOYS AND GIRLS SPEED UP TO GET FIRST FREE BIKE

Lucky One to Have His Picture in Paper.

Members of the army of boys and girls who already have snapped up the Tribune's offer to give free a $60 Ranger bicycle to any man, woman, or child who brings in thirty-five new subscriptions to The World's Greatest Newspaper were asking just one question yesterday: Who will be first under the wire in the famous "bicycle race"? Because, he it known, the Lucky One not only will promptly receive one of the 1921 model Rangers, but will also see his picture in the paper—perhaps on the same page with that of some other celebrity. Fame and fortune in one turn of the wheel!

Yes, that's the latest announcement from bicycle headquarters. Just as soon as the thirty-five subscriptions of any one of the hundreds of youthful workers have been verified, the fortunate one will be "shot" by a TRIBUNE photographer, and his picture will appear in an early issue thereafter. And never it may be the caption, "Nothing Succeeds Like Success."

Young Dave Nearing Goal.
Some one, in fact, is likely to bring in the required thirty-five subscriptions—checked up and verified—before tonight. David Green, the young man who obtained twenty-two orders within two hours after he started out on the first day, Monday, had all but reached the goal last night. So, enterprising brothers and sisters, look out for David. David's a handsome rascal, but even so, you'd rather see your own picture in the paper, wouldn't you?

So much for that. All of you who have entered into this great game of winning a free bicycle must be interested in what the "rest of the bunch" is doing. Well, the bunch just swamped the Tribune with subscriptions yesterday. And the twenty branches that have been opened to supply subscription books to all who wish to work for the bicycles were busy from morning until night.

Joe Grabs His Chance.
Joseph Brooks came to room 503 in the downtown Tribune building early in the day.
"Gee! I must 'a' been asleep for two days," he said. "I didn't know anything about these free bikes until I heard the gang talking about it last night. But if I'm not too late, I'll get one of those Rangers yet."

Joe was not too late. He was given a book and bounded out to set to work. Another boy wrote in to say he had decided to "do or die" to get one of THE TRIBUNE's dandy Rangers.
"I was the proud possessor of a Ranger last year," his letter explained, "but it was stolen from me, and I'm without one."

No wonder! Just think of having

FREE BICYCLES THEIR GOAL

Look over the picture carefully. The flame of ambition gleams in every eye. There is a reason. The youngsters are all out to win one of those free $60 Ranger bicycles just waiting for some one with thirty-five new subscriptions to The Tribune to claim them. Every youngster in the group, which is only a small section of the number who stormed The Tribune offices yesterday, is determined to have one of those wheels, and some of them are nearing the goal. The first to acquire one of the bikes, in addition to glorying in its possession, gets his picture in the paper—fame and fortune at one and the same time! (TRIBUNE Photo.)

owned a Ranger and then lost it!
"One little chap came to our house before we had finished breakfast," writes an Oak Park resident. "I told him I had been a subscriber to THE TRIBUNE for twenty-five years. But he was such a good salesman that I finally subscribed for a paper to be delivered to our maid. I just couldn't turn him down."

Other reports show workers to be just as active and successful in Evanston and throughout Chicago.

But don't be misled into believing all the Rangers are going to boys. Not if the girls know it! The "female of the species" is every bit as active as her brother. Many of the girls had more than half earned their pretty bicycles last night.

"When I got my Ranger I'm going to ride over to see grandma every nice day this summer," said Ethel Bowman, a winsome little Pine Grove avenue miss.

Go to it, Ethel—we're with you! And give our regards to grandma.

TWO STOLEN CARS FOUND EVERY DAY BY CONSTABULARY

The recovery of two stolen automobiles a day for the last year is the average of the Illinois department of constabulary, President James R. Howe told members at the annual banquet last night.

"The department has specialized in the recovery of stolen cars and the pursuit of auto thieves," he said. "More than a score of automobile thieves are now serving time under convictions obtained by the department. We send into every section of the state in which we have membership a list of stolen cars corrected to date every three weeks."

The constabulary, a private organization, started during the race riots, has 4,500 members.

Man's Body Found in Lake; Had an Evanston Ticket

The body of an unidentified man was found in Lake Michigan at Maple street in Winnetka yesterday. The pockets were empty, except for a return ticket from Evanston to Chicago.

Collision on Sidewalk Proves Fatal to Woman

Mrs. Mildred May, 58, of 6217 Rhodes avenue, died yesterday of injuries received March 17, when she was accidentally knocked to the sidewalk by Ernest Gerke, 1714 Bissell street. Gerke is not being held.

WOMAN DIRECTS COPS TO $638,000 STOLEN CHECKS

A woman's telephone message to the detective bureau led to the recovery yesterday of $638,000 worth of cancelled checks stolen in a holdup of two bank messengers on an Illinois Central suburban train several weeks ago.

Go out to the Nickel Plate tracks at 31st street and Stony Island avenue," the voice said. "You'll find some loot in an old caboose."

Detective Sergeants Tapscott, McFadden, McCarthy, and Hisham found the checks tied in neat bundles. The Chicago clearing house had offered a $500 reward for their return.

WIFE CLAIMS HE TURNED 'GROUCH' ON WEDDING DAY

Testifying in Judge Sabath's court yesterday as she was granted a divorce from Theodore Palmer, an automobile salesman and cousin of the former attorney general, Mrs. Beatrice Palmer declared her dream of marital bliss was wrecked on her wedding night.

"During our engagement he was very attentive and gave me everything I wanted," she said. "But an hour after our wedding I noticed a change. He was cross, and by that evening was so cranky I couldn't talk to him."

Mrs. Palmer is living with her parents at 4027 N. Central Park avenue.

The Golden Hours of Opera

yet remain to those who have equipped their homes with a Victrola. Many operas owe their presence on the stage today to one or two great arias. For instance, what would become of Saint-Saens' "Samson and Delilah" were it not for that impassioned love song, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice"? When you have a Victrola you can choose the artist who most pleases you. In a single opera you may enlist the services of a cast which would be quite beyond the dreams of even the most ambitious impresario. Galli-Curci, Caruso, Ruffo, all the great stars will sing for you in the comfort of your own home.

Victrola

There is a Victrola for every one—portable and smaller cabinet instruments for hotel suites and the small apartments, larger cabinet types and art period styles for homes which can accommodate them. A visit to our Victrola Salesroom, where a complete display of all models is to be seen, will be a delightful event. Many quiet demonstration parlors afford the opportunity of careful selection. Our salesmen will be glad to demonstrate any Victrolas which interest you, and you need feel no obligation to purchase.

What's Your Message?

The mail-carrier delivers a bagful of messages; messages of weddings and deaths, of goings and comings; messages of joy and sorrow, of vital interest and of no interest whatever. The great baronial envelope and the flimsy trade circular may go to the same house.

So the advertising columns of magazines and newspapers carry messages of great interest, little interest, or perhaps of no interest at all.

The postman faithfully delivers the messages with which he is entrusted. So also the publications deliver the messages they carry.

But what of the message itself?

Will it command attention?

Is it interesting reading?

Can it be implicitly believed?

Will it "get action"?

Some people find advertising more interesting than the editorial text.

There are men who can make advertising interesting and productive.

We know who these men are—ask us.

O'CONNOR ESCAPE TRIAL ON; FEARS WITNESS FIXING

Chief Watches Case of Five Policemen.

Two stenographers sent by Chief of Police Fitzmorris took turns yesterday transcribing the testimony at the trial of five policemen charged with neglect of duty and inefficiency in connection with the escape of Tommy O'Connor and the killing of Detective Sergeant Patrick O'Neill on March 22. The trial board consists of Civil Service Commissioners Geary and Johnson and First Deputy Alcock. The five defendants are Detective Sergeants Edward M. Halpin, John A. Ronan, Charles McShane, and Patrolmen William G. Fenn and William J. Carter.

Fears Witness Fixing.
Asked for the reason for the presence of the stenographers, Chief Fitzmorris said: "I have the statements of all the witnesses in this case and if the witnesses do not stick to their original statements when they testify before the board, the state's attorney will hear of it. I have heard rumors of efforts to fix the witnesses in this case."

"Darling Dave" O'Connor, brother of "Tommy," took a seat in the hearing room as the trial opened. First Deputy Alcock favored excluding him from the room, but Commissioner Geary ruled the commission was without power to do so.

Body Left Alone Long While.
Eight witnesses, whose homes are in the vicinity of the Foley bungalow at 6415 South Washtenaw avenue, testified that from fifteen to twenty-five minutes elapsed between the firing

CHICAGO PRIEST IS MADE BISHOP OF A TEXAS SEE

News of the official appointment by Pope Benedict XV. of a Chicago clergyman to be the new bishop of Corpus Christi, Tex., was received yesterday by the Roman Catholic Church Extension society at 180 North Wabash avenue. The appointee is vice president and general secretary of the society, the Rt. Rev. Emanuel B. Ledvina. He has served in that office for fourteen years. Mr. Ledvina was born and reared in Indiana, and spent his entire ministry in that state until called to be the first general secretary of the Roman Catholic Church Extension society in 1907.

of shots and the time a uniformed policeman, George B. McClellan, entered the rear yard and picked up O'Neill's body.

"I met Carter at Sixty-fourth street and Talman avenue," said McClellan, "wagon man" at the Englewood station. "He said, 'Don't go in there. O'Connor is still there. I'm going for help.' I answered, 'What do you think we came over here for.' He replied, 'Poor Paddy is dead.'"

"When the shots were fired the policemen scattered in all directions and hid behind telephone poles in the alley," Mrs. Mayne Fletcher, 6414 South Washtenaw avenue, testified.

"CRUEL MOTHER" ON PROBATION.
Mrs. Dora Zorge, 731 North Dearborn street, who was arrested on April 19 after her 8 year old daughter had accused her of cruelty, was placed on probation for six months yesterday by Judge Holmes in the Court of Domestic Relations. The child is being cared for by juvenile authorities.

FIGHT TO PLACE TAX ON SALES IS BEGUN BY SMOOT

Washington, D. C., April 27.—[Special.]—Senator Smoot of Utah, the "watch-dog of the treasury," precipitated the first debate of the session on revenue questions today by advocating the adoption of his sales tax plan. His argument drew sharp criticism from western senators, notably Kenyon of Iowa and McCumber of North Dakota, indicating that the measure has some stormy sailing ahead of it.

Senator Smoot gave notice that when revenue revision comes before the senate he will propose an amendment for the imposition of a general sales tax of 1 per cent in lieu of the excess profits tax. He estimated that his plan would yield an annual revenue of not less than $1,500,000,000.

Senator McCumber challenged Senator Smoot's assertion that the total of the sales tax, when applied on a number of sales, would not exceed 2½ per cent. He insisted that it would mean 1 per cent tax for every exchange made. Senator Smoot corrected this by stating that the 1 per cent tax which he proposed merely applied to the profit taken on the sale and not to the cost plus the profit.

TAX INCREASE TO EXTEND LIBRARY WORK FAVORED

Many Leaders Back Move,
Seeing Big Need.

Many members of women's clubs, as well as some business and professional men who oppose other increases in taxes, have lent their support to an effort to obtain for the Chicago public library the greater revenue that is required for contemplated improvements.

The only source of revenue for the maintenance and development of the library, said Librarian C. B. Roden last night, "is the tax provided by the state library act of 1872, in which the rate is fixed at two-thirds of 1 mill in cities of more than 100,000 population and 1-3 mills in smaller cities."

Where Chicago Lags.

In actual practice this rate amounts to five and one-third tenths of a mill, yielding us for the current year about $850,000. Reliable statistics show that Chicago ranks ninth among the ten largest cities in per capita expenditure for its library. The leader, Boston, spends 74 cents a person; Chicago spends 59. Figures compiled by the same authority, the Library Journal, indicate the Chicago public library ranks second only to New York in the total number of volumes circulated, fourth in circulation per capita, and lowest in the cost of book distributing service.

"Chicago never has had the means for systematic extension—it has no building fund, no opportunity to plan for future development, since the precariousness and scantiness of its income precludes anticipations of any sort. Although a separate taxing body, the library has no borrowing or bonding power."

Ambitious Plans Bared.

The library has forty-five branches, of which only five occupy buildings erected for library work. Of the rest all except seven are in quarters that could be obtained free, in small parks, schools, settlements, and the like. The seven branches are in rented stores, a poor and costly makeshift. Huge areas are entirely untouched by the library influences.

"But, believing the library will be

MARTIN EMERICH CELEBRATES HIS 75TH ANNIVERSARY

Martin Emerich, former congressman from the first district of Illinois, yesterday celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday anniversary.

Mr. Emerich received numerous congratulations at his home, 1114 East 56th street. His health has not been robust of late.

Mr. Emerich was elected to congress in 1902, as a Democrat, defeating Martin B. Madden, and served one term.

Prior to that time he had been chairman of the finance committee of the county board of Cook county and had been South Town assessor. He introduced budget reform in county finances.

Mr. Emerich was born in Baltimore in 1846. He came to Chicago in 1887. He was a member of the Maryland state legislature in 1881, and served on the staffs of Govs. Hamilton and Jackson, of Maryland. For years here he was engaged in the manufacture of brick, and later was in the real estate field.

He is a mason, a member of the council of grand high priests, and is also a member of numerous other fraternal organizations. Since 1912 Mr. Emerich has been a widower. He now resides with his children.

BOARD REQUESTS CHICAGO VOTE ON FREE TEXTBOOKS

The board of education yesterday unanimously authorized Charles E. Gilbert, acting secretary, to petition the election commissioners to place upon the ballot for the next election the proposal that the board furnish free textbooks to all Chicago pupils.

If favorable the election commissioners agreed the proposition will go on the little ballot in the judicial elections on June 6. The proposition was offered by Trustee Hart Hanson.

Mr. Gilbert read a report stating he is in receipt of 2,970 petitions signed by 51,611 voters of Chicago asking that the board put the proposition for free textbooks to the voters. The petition was sent in by Walter H. Allen. He cites a law passed by the general assembly in 1919 giving school boards the right to provide textbooks for the free use of pupils, and to sell them at cost to any who wish to purchase them.

The board also approved the request of Supt. Mortenson that the last edition of the spelling books, which are published by the board and sold to the pupils at cost, be raised in price from 12 cents to 22 cents each. Supt. Mortenson stated the raise was necessary because of the increased cost of paper and binding.

Supt. Mortenson said that if the board is required to provide free textbooks, an additional sum of $1,000,000 will be needed annually for the schools.

SEAMEN REJECT PROPOSED WAGE CUT; MAY STRIKE

Washington, D. C., April 27.—A final break between the shipowners and marine workers was narrowly averted here today by Chairman Benson of the shipping board, when an effort was made to prevent a threatened strike on May 1. A last moment appeal by Andrew Furuseth, president of the International Seamen's union, resulted in an agreement for further conferences Friday.

W. S. Brown, for the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association, flatly rejected the proposed wage reduction. W. A. Thompson, representing the American Steamship Owners' association, said that unless the unions were prepared to negotiate a new wage scale, further conferences would be useless and that his organization was now prepared to act.

Westinghouse Waffles

- 2 cups of flour (soft wheat flour preferred)
- 2 eggs (beat whites stiff and mix last)
- 4 tablespoons of melted shortening (butter or bacon drippings)
- 4 teaspoons of baking powder
- 3/4 teaspoon of salt
- 1 1/4 cups of sweet milk—enough more should be added to make the batter of the right consistency

After mixing thoroughly fold in the whites of the eggs, beaten stiff.

For Serving Six People.

Waffles For Every Occasion

What delicacy is there that is more appealing and appetizing than the old, familiar and distinctly American Waffle? Want of a clean, convenient method of making them has deprived many people of this ever enjoyable food. The new Westinghouse Waffle Iron has changed the whole situation.

Delicious, hot waffles, electrically cooked, can be made right at the table. No grease is required. There is no smoke, no sticking.

Pull down the handle. Pour in the batter. Raise the handle. And in a few minutes the waffle is done—a wonderful brown. Both sides are baked at once. There is no turning. The waffles are evenly brown, crisp and tasty.

Any woman who is proud of her home appointments will want one of these new electric waffle irons. For lunches, after some little gathering, for breakfasts or for any place where epicurean tastes are found, the Westinghouse Waffle Iron, with its capacity for delightful, golden waffles supplemented by rich maple syrup, will fill every necessary requirement.

Most dealers in electric appliances can show you the Westinghouse Waffle Iron.

RECALLS GRANT AS ADVOCATE OF WORLD'S PEACE

Galena, Ill., April 27.—The fight made by Ulysses S. Grant to be allowed to fight for his country in the civil war, his success after repeated rebuffs, his rise to command of the union armies, the surrender of Gen. Robert E. Lee, Grant's elevation to the Presidency, all were revived here today at the 99th anniversary of his birth.

There were some few present who remembered how certain civil war politicians had regarded Grant as a "dear old soldier" and in every way had tried to keep him at home. While the whole city was decorated in Grant's honor today, Senator Heflin, Democrat, of Alabama delivered a speech in which he recalled that Grant had favored proposals for the ending of wars and had hoped that disputes between nations would be settled by arbitration.

"War," the senator declared, "has become so deadly that something should be done to prevent its recurrence. The United States must lead in practical steps to world peace. Grant, a great soldier, looked forward to such a time and favored the establishment of an international tribunal where disputes between nations could be settled by arbitration."

The Alabama senator declared Grant had lived to see the wounds of the civil war healed, as while he was ill expressions of sympathy had come from both north and south. As a result of that, the senator said, Grant wrote to Gen. Buckner, a former confederate, declaring: "I have witnessed since my sickness just what I have wished to see ever since the war, harmony and good feeling between the sections."

"If," the senator asserted, "Lincoln and Davis, Grant and Lee were permitted to know what was happening in 1921, they rejoiced together, as the sons of Illinois, Ohio, Mississippi, Virginia, Alabama and other states, north, south, east and west, wearing the same uniform, fought for victory in France."

HE GETS A NEW GOAT

Among the distinguished passengers which arrived on the Santa Fe train de luxe from California at 3 p. m. yesterday was Ruby Maxine, the champion Nubian doe of California. She had a special compartment in the buffet car and was cared for and milked on the way by Wade Bright, who runs the train's aristocratic barber shop. Mr. Bright, whose picture is shown by the side of Ruby Maxine, stated that a keen interest was manifested by the passengers in the animal and that the demand for her milk by the two dining cars was far greater than the supply. The new owner of Ruby is a milk goat fancier and the possessor of a herd of prize Toggenburgs.

BROTHERS MEET TO BURY FATHER; FIGHT, ONE DEAD

The reunion of three brothers who came here to bury their father resulted in the death of one early yesterday, when they, their grief smothered in whisky, engaged in a fight with a taxi driver. Today the body of John H. Bingham will be prepared for shipment to his home in Cincinnati, and the remaining two brothers will journey there for his funeral.

Charles D. Bingham, 6610 Woodlawn avenue, the father of the three, died Sunday. Harry Bingham, general manager of the Charcoal Iron company of Detroit, Mich., and Hood Bingham, a Michigan railroad man, were released from custody to attend the funeral yesterday. Today they will be witnesses at the coroner's inquest into the death of John.

Edward Siegel, 820 South Hermitage avenue, a taxi driver, is being held for the death, which occurred in front of the police station. Lieut. Edward Murnane found the chauffeur battling with the two brothers. John was stretched out on the sidewalk, his skull fractured.

"A right-about-face in the Shoe Business"

People who are grumbling about shoe prices haven't heard the news

We all know somebody who would rather grumble about a bad habit than cure it.

Take the man with the sentiment that he must pay fancy prices for shoes.

How are you going to convince him that he can save his money as well as his pride?

On the other hand are the substantial folks who are determined on a better averaging of their expenses.

They are re-discovering the quality merchandise, make no mistake about that.

There are more new faces coming into the Regal Stores to-day than any time in the past five years.

Business executives, professional men, well-to-do people—and their wives. Men and women who know what things are worth.

The Regal people are shoe-makers first—and price-makers afterward.

Measure by Regal standards, and you get an old-time dollar's worth.

Regal leathers are all genuine leathers—Genuine Calfskin. Genuine Kidskin. Genuine Cordovan.

You need not be a shoe-maker to appreciate the genuine quality of Regal workmanship.

Nor a merchandise expert to realize the genuine saving in these fine Regal Shoes at $7.50, $8.50 and $9.50. The price of genuine values, brought direct to the wearer through the 57 factory-owned Regal Stores.

H. E. HOLSINGER AGAIN INDICTED FOR TAX FRAUD

Homer E. Holsinger, president of the Golden Rule Cutlery company at 212 Sheldon street, was indicted by the federal grand jury yesterday, charged with defrauding the government out of "large sums of money," by falsifying his concern's income tax returns for the year 1918.

The maximum penalty is two years in prison, $10,000 fine, or both. Holsinger was indicted on similar charges last year.

Case Before Judge Landis.
The true bill filed before Federal Judge Landis charges Holsinger with falsifying his income tax returns for the year ending Dec. 31, 1918, was $74,510.20, and that deductions of $70,899 were justifiable.

Revenue investigators declare the income of the firm for the year was $90,755.68, and that many of the items included as warranted deductions were fraudulently inserted in the affidavits. Indictments were also returned against six members of an alleged "national band of automobile thieves."

Those indicted were: William Beville, 3045 East 92d street; Seth Beville of Dayton, O.; Roy Rapp, 9129 Exchange avenue; Fred Soback, 8808 Exchange avenue; Fred Snyder, 7816 Burnham avenue, and William Price of Dayton, Henry Enrico Ross and Nicholas Paraskavas, both of Kenosha, Wis., were indicted for violation of the Mann act.

TRIO HUNG UP TEA STORE; $100.
Three robbers stole approximately $100 yesterday at a tea store of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company at 3558 West North avenue after compelling Mrs. Alice East, a clerk, to remain in a rear room.

MESERVEY HAS A CINCH AS HEAD OF HAMILTON CLUB

The Hamilton club's next election on May 15 will be merely a matter of form, as far as president and treasurer are concerned.

Col. S. T. Meservy will be the harmony candidate for president, having been selected by both nominating committees. George A. Jackson is the common choice for treasurer. John C. Everett, Dr. L. M. Turbin and A. M. Eberhardt are candidates for vice (Photo C) by Nat. presidents on one ticket, with Roger Flory for secretary. The opposing ticket consists of F. E. Judd, A. A. Dixon, and P. E. Powers for vice presidents, and G. F. Zanies for secretary.

COL. S. T. MESERVEY HAS A CINCH AS HEAD OF HAMILTON CLUB.

FRATSDANCES AGAIN BARRED AT OLD VALPARAISO

Valparaiso, Ind., April 27.—[Special.]—No fraternities, no dances, no outside athletics—the policy of the founders of Valparaiso university—was reestablished today with slight modification by its new president, John E. Roessler. At the same time Jack Pierce and George W. Stimpson, leaders in the student revolt against the former president, Russell Hodgdon, were reinstated.

President Roessler's announcement of the reinstatement of a student meeting was greeted with tremendous cheers. Two hundred federal board men at the university joined in resolutions protesting the announcement that the Indiana American Legion intended to make an investigation of alleged bolshevism and communism among the students, denying all the charges.

PICK 4 JURORS TO TRY DALTON, $772,000 THIEF

Four members of the jury that will try the 16 year old bank clerk, who is charged with stealing $772,000 from the Northern Trust company, were selected yesterday in Judge McDonald's court. Three were young men and it is believed the case will be heard by a youthful jury.

From the nature of the questions asked of witnesses by Atty. Gen. Short, "I think they should be held responsible."

Prospective jurors were also asked if they had read about the Francis Carey case in which Judge Landis criticized officials of the Ottawa National bank for failure to pay young Carey an adequate salary. The boy was eventually sent to the federal reformatory school in Washington, D. C. for stealing more than $80,000, all of which was recovered.

Father of College Boy Picked.
H. J. Jauner, assistant fire inspector for the International Harvester company, who has a son attending Northwestern university; Forrest Moore, 3844 North Park avenue; J. W. Curley, 1867 South Ridgeway avenue, and Stephen Formella Jr., 351 North Wood avenue, were the four jurors accepted.

Building Quiz to Take Up Steel Prices Tomorrow

Investigation of Chicago structural steel prices will be started tomorrow by the Dalley joint legislative committee as open sessions are inaugurated in the county building. Clifford Thorne, heading a group of steel consumers, is among the witnesses. Joseph B. Fleming, newly appointed special assistant attorney general, announced yesterday that he and Assistant State's Attorney Gorman are preparing the testimony taken by the committee for presentation to the special grand jury which convenes May 4.

1921 Rewards Fighting Clothier— uses Chicago Tribune to achieve big volume sales

FIFTEEN YEARS ago Maurice L. Rothschild picked out a corner location on the greatest shopping street in the world, secured a well advertised line of men's clothing, and set out to make a name for himself as a merchant in a city already famous for its great merchants.

He brought the public into his store, and converted strangers into customers and friends by telling his story in The Chicago Tribune on the day he opened his doors. Since then he has added thousands of chapters to that story. One or more installments have appeared in every issue of The Daily Tribune. In rain or shine, through wars, strikes, and blizzards, his ads have been as inevitable a feature of The Chicago Daily Tribune as the weather reports.

Fourth Largest Tribune Advertiser

LAST YEAR his copy in The Tribune totaled 453,197 agate lines, which was exceeded only by three department stores. During 1921, instead of retrenching, Maurice L. Rothschild has advanced under the slogan "1921 Will Reward Fighters." He has used more than one hundred thousand lines since January first. The results are summarized by him as follows:

21% Gain Rewards 1921 Fighters

"OUR SALES for the first quarter of 1921 are 21% ahead of the same period of 1920, in dollars and cents. In volume of merchandise the gain is far greater because prices are so much lower.

"We promised the men in our work rooms some months ago that, if they would promise to give us a full day's work for every day's pay, we would go out and get business to keep them employed. They did and we did.

"It has cost a lot of money to get the extra business needed to fulfill our promise—it has cost more money than ever before. Our advertising costs more; we must do more of it; and we must give the public better values. Our profits have been cut, but our volume has been maintained. To maintain our volume we have had to secure many new customers. This new business may have been secured at no profit, but when the tide turns these new customers will be a wonderful asset. We have kept our entire plant running and our organization intact. We have not laid off a single person in our shops in eight months.

"THE first step in preparing for the 1921 market was to unload our old stock, regardless of prices. Having done this, we were in the market for new merchandise at falling prices. The next step was to hammer home our story to the public. In doing this, The Chicago Daily Tribune was, of course, our mainstay.

Tribune ads Daily for 15 Years

"We have had one or more ads in every issue of The Chicago Daily Tribune since we first opened our doors, 15 years ago. That tells what we think of The Tribune and why we are your largest advertiser of men's clothing."

Of the many elements that have combined to make Maurice L. Rothschild a conspicuously successful merchant, one of the most important is his faculty for using advertising, or "mass salesmanship."

MAURICE L. ROTHSCCHILD'S busy store is a monument to the policy of keeping up advertising incessantly and increasing it to smashing blows when sales are most needed. The Chicago Tribune is proud of having been selected by Maurice L. Rothschild as the backbone of his advertising efforts.

THIS picture made from the novel "Mary Carey" which I didn't read—has one great fault. It demands, instead of wins, sympathy. It is almost craven in its insistence that you pity the poor little orphan, Mary Carey. And it doesn't provide you with sufficient reason to feel desperately sorry for the child. Everything in the picture has been subjugated to the idea of showing the April face of Miss Marsh in its various moods and phases. The result is—you're pretty tired of that same face by the time the picture ends.

Mary Carey is orphan. She leads a drab life and wears drab dresses in one of those drab homes provided for unfortunate waifs, which seem—in the pictures and often in real life—to be provided over by drab people with drab emotions and gray hair. The York town asylum is no exception.

There's not much to the story excepting that Mary Carey has a hard time at the home, turns out later not to be "nobody's kid" after all, and is left comfortably provided for and happy by the story writer.

Such incident as there is not especially convincing. It is scarcely pathetic. It is hardly ever amusing. The continuity is a bad somebody seems to have bitten off hunks of the tale here and there.

The acting, however, is all pretty good, and Miss Marsh looks young as of yore.

All she needs to be as clever and appealing an actress as ever, is something to act in.

That's all I've got to say.

ASK ME! ASK ME!

A Friend: That's nice. Dorothy Phillips is married to Allen Hulubar. Rudolph Valentino played with her in the picture you mean. She was not in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse." Y'winkum.

Emily: Perhaps the idea is of Miss Opp'tunity knocking at your door. Send a stamped and self-addressed envelope, my dear, for the dope on scenario writing and list of producing companies. Blame you for "being so enthusiastic?" Good land, no! If God

CLOSEUPS

Recently Harry Carey and his wife, who was Olive Fuller Golden, went through their marriage ceremony a second time, to be good and sure their wedlock was legal. It seems that the first ceremony took place before Mr. Carey's interdictory decree, issued in California, was final.

Announcement is jubilantly made by United Artists that George Arliss has been "signed up" to produce three features, the first of which will be an adaptation of "Dissraeli," his famous stage success.

Louise Glaum is about to spend her vacation in Mexico City. It is hissed by her press agent that she is awfully excited. It seems that Villa has expressed a burning desire to meet her.

Anita Stewart has purchased a new home in Hollywood, according to report. She seems always to be buying houses.

William Desmond is thinking of vaudeville, O. all right.

Pauline Frederick will appear on the speaking stage next season under the management of A. H. Woods.

A FRIEND IN NEED

I want to be the medium through which the friends of a girl on two occasions. After the second I asked her if she had an engagement for the following Wednesday. She said she hadn't, but said to call my name. What I can't understand is why she couldn't make an engagement three days before hand. She always said she enjoyed the evening when I brought her home. Perhaps she said that to be polite and really was bored by my company. I wouldn't impose on her for a minute if I knew she really didn't enjoy my company. How can I find out?

"I am a widow with five small children. My husband died six months ago, leaving me penniless. I need clothing for the children and myself. The children's ages are, girls, 11 and 9, boys, 7, 6, and 5. I wear size 44. I certainly would be thankful for any help.

Please turn your bags and boxes inside out in a search for wearing apparel for this poor widow and her family. Now that housecleaning time is upon us, you are almost certain to find articles of clothing you will want to discard. I shall be happy to furnish Mrs. S.'s address to correspondents.

"Have you any one on your list who would like some old ragtime music and classical, is always in demand."

"I am a shut-in and find the days long and lonely. I was wondering if some of your readers might have some discarded wireless parts which they would give to me."

Dorothy dropped in on us one real morning before breakfast. Her aunt was busy elsewhere in the house, and she started to laugh.

"What are you laughing at, Dorothy?" I asked.

"O, I didn't know you was so much of a woman."

Ruth has an annoying habit of not answering people when she is spoken to. I had scolded her one evening after coming from the grocery, telling her she must answer folks when they speak to her. Next evening, on going to the store, I was surprised to hear her say, as soon as we got in the door, in a voice well raised: "Good evening, folks. How is you all today?" R. J.

Marion is fond of her daddy and never wishes to hurt his feelings. One day she ate too much candy and made herself so sick she had to go to bed. Every little while her daddy would go in to see how she was, and finally, when he went in, before he had time to ask her, she said: "Don't ask me, daddy, for I will have to tell you I feel worse."

Tactful.

A friend of mine was giving a small reception in her home, and I was invited. I met a girl I hadn't seen for some years. The last time I had seen her I had considered her pretty. This time I noticed she was quite changed. She wore tattered rimmed glasses, which gave her the air of a spinster. Now I did not dream that it was necessary for her to wear them. You see, I thought they were her father's and that she was wearing them for a joke.

I said, "What an ideal old maid you

It was one of these cold, frosty mornings when I had to go to work. I was in a hurry and didn't have time to get dressed properly. I was in a hurry and didn't have time to get dressed properly. I was in a hurry and didn't have time to get dressed properly.

As usual, the car would not start immediately. My temper gave way whereupon I exclaimed rather loudly, "Come on, Nellie, let's go."

Under ordinary conditions this exclamation would not have aroused any comment, but my friend's aunt was disgusted at being thus accosted by her first name by one who hardly knew her.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Current Bread.

A fruit makes a bread somewhat moist, therefore we may add fruit to what we call a dough rather than a batter, or we may add it to a batter, as in making date muffins. In making a baking powder or quick bread we get more of a yeast bread effect in a loaf if we add flour enough to make a dough, or at any rate something that is about half way between a muffin batter—two cups of flour to one cup of liquid—and a bread dough—three cups of flour to one cup of liquid.

For a small loaf we may take one egg, one-half cup of milk, one cup and a half of white flour, one-fourth cup of sugar, one teaspoon salt, two teaspoons baking powder, one cup of currants, and four tablespoons of melted butter, added last. We may add a little additional flour to take up the wet of the egg, and when the flour is all wet up and worked, we may knead the whole somewhat before we knead in the currants—kneading in the bowl with a wooden spoon.

In adding the melted butter last, we have a way of thinning a bit too heavy dough, and of getting a product that will divide up nicely if we want to bake it in small portions. If well managed, we get a flakier crumb, but if the butter is not well worked in, the loaf will have a tendency to separate irregularly, especially on the top in baking. Taking this into account, we may make tiny picturesque loaves with bric-a-brac tops.

Currents should be well picked over and any stems removed. To flour a cup, one rounding teaspoon of flour is sufficient, but to clean and flour them take one tablespoon of flour, rub them thoroughly with it, then sift it off.

PENNSY REDUCES
DIVIDEND TO 4%
29 YEARS' LOW

BY O. A. MATHER.

The past difficulties and future uncertainties in railroad operation were strikingly illustrated in several instances yesterday. Foremost in the minds of the public was the action of the Pennsylvania Railroad in reducing the annual dividend rate from 5 to 4 per cent by declaring a quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share on the first payment date.

The reduction of the dividend means a saving to the road of about $10,000,000 a year, but the importance of the decision lies in the fact that such a move should be considered necessary in order to effect economy in the face of the general depression and the curtailment of purchases of material and the cutting of clerical salaries.

The action of the Pennsylvania also somewhat counteracted by the fact that the Delaware and Hudson cut its dividend from 5 to 4 per cent.

The Iron Trade Review says that the steel industry is in a state of depression. The steel industry is in a state of depression. The steel industry is in a state of depression.

WANTED—MALE HELP.
Salesmen, Solicitors, Etc.

SALESMEN

YOU ARE THE MAN WE WANT.

If you can prove that you have successfully sold or are now successfully selling any kind of product.

We offer real salesmen an opportunity to become permanently connected with the largest and best known law firm in the country.

Big men will go a long way here. We allow you a substantial drawing account and follow-up on a free lagging.

Come in today and start building for the future.

S. H. CHRISTIAN, SUGR. RM. 342,
25 S. LA SALLE ST.

SALESMEN.

EXTRAORDINARY OPPORTUNITY.

I was a book salesman. Specialty salesman for many years, and a very successful one. I considered one of the best. I helped my earnings. I was very satisfied. I could not see myself getting into anything but a better future. I always had to find new customers.

My proposition from every angle. I can sell leads to other orders and which every order leads to other orders. I can sell leads to other orders and which every order leads to other orders. I can sell leads to other orders and which every order leads to other orders.

Our men are earning from $400 to $1,000 monthly. We teach you.

Call Room 400, 10 W. Jackson-bldg.

SALESMEN.

We have excellent opportunities for a number of live wires who can present the most legitimate proposition in a proper manner. Double commissions to the right men; co-operation is our key-note. Open evenings.

Thought you'd seen a lot of pretty Indiana girls already, didn't you? Well, here are some more, and there are still some coming. This is Indiana week. Fourteen a day until Sunday, when the ten prize winners will appear. The loveliest of the ten, as the most estimable judges see it, will win $1,000. Their second choice is to have $250; their third $100, and the seven still remaining $50 each. Will the photograph you sent, please, be one of those shown on May the first? Or would you like to see it in person? But the judges can't take into consideration the generosity that made your favorite go with-

Home-Made Layer Cake

Chocolate—vanilla—orange—lemon—cocoanut—luscious, mouth-watering layer cake so perfectly baked that it is good to look at and a delight to taste. This is the kind of layer cake—smooth, light, evenly baked—that is so easy to make and so sure to be a success—if made in

"Wear-Ever" Aluminum Cake Pans

"Wear-Ever" aluminum takes the heat so quickly and evenly in all parts that the center of the cake is baked as thoroughly as the outside. It is not necessary to grease "Wear-Ever" Cake Pans or to turn pan around in oven to brown both sides of cake. To remove the cake, you simply turn pan over. The fact that dealers now have stocks of "Wear-Ever" Cake Pans will be good news to thousands of women who have been waiting long to get them—who have refused to accept inferior substitutes.

Sold by Department, Hardware and Housefurnishing stores. Look for the "Wear-Ever" trade mark on the bottom of each stand.
